

Announcement of next Lawyers in Transition Meeting:

The next meeting of Lawyers in Transition will be on Monday, July 26th from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. at the HCBA's office at 100 Pearl Street (second floor conference center) in downtown Hartford. The group is open to all attorneys and provides a forum to discuss the challenges facing lawyers in this competitive job market and the skills and resources necessary to land their next job. The group is comprised of practitioners with wide-ranging experience spanning many different areas of practice.

The next meeting will feature a roundtable discussion on a broad array of topics including: (i) difficult interview questions and how to answer them; (ii) how to find temporary employment opportunities until a full-time position comes along; and (iii) how to keep your network refreshed. Participants are encouraged to bring their suggestions for other topics of discussion and the group will ambitiously set out to address any and all of those additional questions or concerns.

If you would like more information, please contact Frank Chesky at fjciiii@mac.com or Alan Kosberg at akosberg@comcast.net. Once again, the group is open to all attorneys, so if you have friends or colleagues looking for work or making a career change, feel free to extend an invitation to them.
